Tradie

The project is progressing greatly. I've added all of the insider trader info via the FastAPI endpoints and now I'm working on creating specific info pages for each user/stock. After that I'll be heavily focused on the AI system, saving user info, and the notification system.. The notification system is being integrated with Supabase for real-time alerts. The mobile application's UI is being inspired by some of Dub's pictures on their websites.. Further work on the database schema and API endpoints is underway to optimize data retrieval and processing efficiency. The next steps involve finalizing the backend to make sure all the information is cached and stored
